

This route will center around the Chattahoochee National Forest, specifically Dahlonega / Suches / Blue Ridge / Blood Mountain area. No racing, no track time, etc.; just cruising through some fun roads and hanging out, great scenery with a meal or two fit in. This event is not sanctioned, sponsored, etc and we aren't looking to race through the mountains or break any laws.

Meet Up around 9.30am – 9.45am:

Walmart parking lot (I'll be in a Brown with Gold Strip 71 Cutlass)

270 Walmart Way, Dahlonega, GA 30533 (make sure to fuel up before we leave as the stations will be few / far between)

Depart at 10am:

Head north along hwy 19 / 60 until Stonepile Gap, and then bear left to take 60 up through Suches. Drive about 3.8 miles and we'll have a brief stop at Chestatee Overlook. Then about 9 miles to the Wildcat Lodge & Campground (if anyone needs to hit the head). Then on to Blue Ridge for lunch. This overall section takes about 1.5-2 hours including the stops.

Lunch at Noon-ish:

Blue Ridge Brewery, 187 Depot Street, Blue Ridge, GA 30513 Phone:\(706\) 632-6611632-6611)

Depart around 1.30-2pm:

1. option 1 (this is how we went last year):
 - a. Head back down hwy 60, and we'll turn left onto hwy 180 / Wolf Pen Gap Road (there is an old Country Store / gas station at that intersection that has gone out of business). We'll continue down Wolf Pen Gap Road (hwy 180) through Vogel State Park until it hits hwy 19 again. Turn right onto hwy 19 and head south towards Blood Mountain. We'll continue down hwy 19 south to Turner's Corner, where we'll turn right onto hwy 19. About 500' up the road we will stop at Turner's Corner General Store, where we can fuel up if anyone needs (and get drinks / etc).
2. option 2
 - a. take hwy 76 (Appalachian Hwy) east towards Blairsville, then take Hwy 19 south to Vogel State Park. Turn right onto Wolf Pen Gap Road (hwy 180) and run that until it dead ends into Hwy 60, where we can stop at the now-defunct country store.

From there, we can either head over towards Dahlonega and find a place to eat (nothing fancy), or we can all split our separate ways (the group can decide). The group can decide at lunch which of the two return options we take.
